Luke Lenhart is an all-around instrumentalist having been a fixture in the bluegrass music community since his youth. He has shared the stage with nationally known musicians for the International Bluegrass Music Association and has also participated in the National Flatpicking Championships in Winfield, Kansas. Luke plays the mandolin, guitar, banjo, fiddle, doghouse bass, and sings lead and harmony.

The band has made appearances on local television shows such as 8 West of Grand Rapids, Hometown Pickin' of Kalamazoo, and Fox 17. They have made various radio appearances on shows such as LCC WLNZ 89.7 Morning Break in Lansing, John Sinkevics' Local Spins, WGVU 88.5 and Grand Rapids 88.1 WYCE. And they have also played festivals such as the Festival of the Arts in Grand Rapids, the West Michigan Bluegrass Association Junegrass and Fallfest festivals, the Fallasburg Fall Festival, Rabbit River Folk Festival and the Coopers Glenn Festival for the Great Lakes Acoustic Music Association (GLAMA).
